Rev. Arthur D. Carpenter, pastor of the First Baptist church in this city since May 6, 1917, has tendered his resignation to the board of deacons, to be taken up by a meeting of the members of the church probably the coming Sunday. Rev. Mr. Carpenter's resignation was written to take effect June 1st, when he will leave for his summer home at Lake Massabesic, to spend five months before accepting another pastorate. Mr. Carpenter has been absent from his church for the past month, residing at his camp because of poor health and he feels that a longer rest is needed. Mrs. Carpenter is to remain here until the school year comes to a close and then she and the family will join Mr. Carpenter.

Mr. Carpenter was born in the Province of Quebec, Canada, attended schools in that place and in northern Vermont. He attended the Bible Training College at McMaster University, Toronto, and was graduated from Newton, Mass., Theological Seminary in June, 1917, and immediately took up the pastorate of the local church. While at the seminary he was president of his class in his second year and president of the student body in his senior year. During his four years as pastor of the local Baptist church he has continued his studies at the seminary and last June was given the degree of S. T. D.

While in this city Mr. Carpenter has been identified with many organizations of the Baptist faith, also took a prominent part in civic matters. For a time he was president of the Ashford Baptist Association, composed of seven churches, moderator of the Willimantic Christian Endeavor Union and for two years was president of the Willimantic Ministers' Union. He was one of the directors of the Connecticut Christian Endeavor Union, vice president of the Baptist Board of Promotion, a member of the Baptist State Educational Society, on the board of trustees of the Baptist State Convention, and the evangelistic commission of the Baptist church. Previous to coming to this city Mr. Carpenter filled pulpits in three Canadian churches and while at Newton Seminary had charge of the religious instruction of the Industrial School for Girls in Lancaster, Mass.

Mr. Carpenter upon his arrival in Willimantic explained his hobby for fishing and has always loved the sport. On leaving the city he said he was to start his fishing trips at the camp June 1st, leaving Willimantic Mr. Carpenter states that there are no better people anywhere and he will always cherish happy memories of Willimantic and its people.

William Barber, formerly of this city, was seriously injured Tuesday night at Palmer, Mass., when he was pushed from a truck, suffering a fractured skull. He is the eldest son of Mrs. William Barber, who is employed by a lighting company in Palmer, was on his way home from work with other men in a truck and the driver pulled to the curb to stop, but misjudged the distance the result being that the men were jostled about and the man next to Mr. Barber fell against him and was rushed to the hospital where it was found that his right arm and leg were numb from the shock. Mrs. Barber received word Monday that the shock had affected his lungs.

The long continued case of Charles H. Baker, local truckman, charged with assault of Dr. Herbert L. Switzer, the Jordan Road veterinarian, was heard at the police court Monday morning. The hearing continued over two hours and after the arguments by the attorneys the large gallery waited the decision of Judge Frank H. Fox. Judge Fox stated that there was little doubt that both men were guilty of breach of the peace, but that he could not find Baker guilty of an aggravated assault and that under the circumstances would find Baker guilty of breach of the peace. Baker, through his attorney, appealed to the superior court and bonds of $100 were furnished by Harry W. Avery. The case has caused considerable interest in this city both men being well known. The case was an outgrowth of Baker's hitting Dr. Switzer on the head with a wagon stake. Switzer claimed he was struck from behind, but Baker said he struck Switzer in self defense. The fight was finished with no witnesses although several people had heard the loud talking that preceded the blow.

The police court session Monday was a long one, two hours being taken up with the Baker-Switzer case. The remaining hour with two other cases. Henry Woodward of South Windham was charged with breach of the peace. His sister, the wife of Brewster's No. 1, she was through making a home for him. Woodward was given a chance to cross-examine his sister, but he failed to do so. Woodward's talk on the stand caused Judge Fox to ask him if he had denied anything that morning to which Woodward answered, "I have or not." Judge Fox told him to get down from the stand and then fined him $10 and costs amounting to $19. Woodward appealed and bonds of $10 were furnished by Fred L. Yeomans.

Jan Utkewich, charged with intoxication, then pleaded guilty and his wife, through an interpreter, Jake Heller, said her husband had promised to quit drinking and gambling. Judge Fox fined him $10 and costs and remitted the fine, the costs of $9 being paid by Mrs. Utkewich.

The case of four small boys believed to have been parties who entered a freight car in the local yard was continued another week for investigation. The arrest was made on complaint of a railroad official.

The body of former City Clerk and Treasurer Albert C. Scribner was removed from the receiving vault in the Willimantic cemetery Monday morning and conveyed to Stafford where burial took place in the Stafford Street cemetery. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Jay M. Shepard.

Funeral services for Louis Patox were held Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the late home, 175 Mansfield avenue, Rev. John Pearce officiating. Burial was in the Willimantic cemetery. The bearers were Harry Oakes, Thomas Gwynne, George Paterson and John Gorton.
